COLORECTAL CANCER IS NOT JUST A MAN’S DISEASE

Colorectal cancer is just as common among women as men. Each year, about 140,000 Americans are diagnosed with colorectal cancer, and more than 50,000 die from it.

COLORECTAL CANCER IS DEADLY BUT HIGHLY TREATABLE.

Colorectal cancer is often highly treatable. If it’s found and treated early (while it’s small and before it has spread), the 5-year survival rate is about 90%.

COLORECTAL CANCER IS A SILENT KILLER

Usually there are no symptoms to rely on, and when there are symptoms, the cancer may be at an advanced stage. Getting screened is the only reliable prevention.

COLORECTAL
CANCER CAN BE PREVENTED

Colorectal cancer can be prevented. Colorectal cancer almost always starts with a small growth called a polyp. If the polyp is found early, doctors can remove it and stop colorectal cancer before it starts.

NO FAMILY HISTORY OF COLON CANCER,
DOES NOT MEAN
YOU ARE SAFE.

Most people with colorectal cancer do not have a family member with the disease. You can still get colon cancer even if no one in your family has ever had it.

GET SCREENED BEFORE IT’S TOO LATE

Detect cancer early through Colorectal cancer screening and prevent it from causing further harm.
